FRS Training People Development, Built Around Your Team

What does your team need to develop next?

At FRS Training, we can work with your organisation to develop a People Development Programme shaped around your people, objectives and workplace needs.

Our recent work with Offaly Local Development Company (OLDC) shows how that can work in practice. The result was a programme that OLDC described as “responsive, flexible and easy to work with”, helping to improve understanding and connection across its teams.

Discover how we worked with Offaly LDC and what a tailored programme could look like for your team.
